MESSAGE

I am glad to know that Bio-Diesel Association of India are holding 1st Annual Convention of the Association during the first week of January 2007 at New Delhi.

Bio-diesel is a promising supplement in the ensuing years and a dependable complement in the long run for India's fuel economy.

The Annual Convention being held, I am sure, will help in exchanging knowledge of technologies among the participants in the field of bio-fuel production. This will also help our farmers to know the modern methods to optimally utilize the wastelands available with them.

I wish the convention all success.
